

Hacienda López De Haro Reserva, 2015

San Vicente de la Sonsierra, La Rioja, Spain

From the heart of the Rioja Designation of Origin, inside the Rioja Alta, comes the collection Hacienda López de Haro. The Sonsierra, with the Sierra de Cantabria mountains on the north and the Ebro River on the south, is a perfect area for old-vines of Tempranillo. That is why this area has an ancient tradition of winegrowing and winemaking. Headed by winegrower and winemaker, Raúl Acha, utilizing hand-pruned mountain vineyards and natural methods.

Varietals

90% Tempranillo, 5% Garnacha, 5% Graciano

Vinification

Fermentation starts with wild native yeasts, naturally, in open-top concrete.

Aged in French and American oak barrels for 20-24 mos.

Hand racked quarterly, no vacuum pumps used in transfer.

Cellared in bottle for conditioning for 2 yrs.

Tasting Notes

“Powerful on the nose, with primary aromas of ripe fruit accompanied by complex spicy and balsamic notes, and a slight touch of vanilla.

On the palate, it is balanced, it is a round and unctuous wine with ripe and sweet tannins, providing the wine with a long aftertaste. An elegant Rioja classic.”
